A PECULIARLY free and easy air has recently been observal le, amongst certain Consular representatives of the United States in the East, regarding the actual meaning of the Consular Regulations and U.S. Statutes which are supposed to guide their official conduct. To some of these we have had occasion to refer but the list does not appear to have been filled, as fresh developments arise in quarters where they were least expected. In the prosecution of what is now known as the "Reform of the Civil Service" in the States, the State Department at Washington size will to have ben ferced into a most virticus frame of mind by the unusual attention that has lately been drawn by the influential portion of the American press to the loose state of things which has hitherto existed in many of the Consulates in the East. From the fountain head at Peking to the smallest Consular agency, the orp for resorm has gone forth : but not withstanding this, a most mysterious hesitancy seems to exist on the part of the Washington Secretary of State to vigorously wield the pruning knife. The cases of Minister Seward, Consul Bailey, do., do., bave been fully commented apent but the reasons officially given for prompt action were fally made known long before anything definite was done by the central powers in the Capitol This unbusiness like online seems of eather the smaller departments of Consular action, as may be seen by the following statement. The gentleman who hearfor some years past acted as Consul for the United States at Canton and who won for himself golden opinions for his renisile and official meritary has been but under sumseion by bertails described of having entered into a contract with Chiness officials to supply true from the

There are many reasons why they cannot be fully exposed. But as outsiders know nothing about this immoral and scandalous "understanding "--and as it is presumed Congress does not recognise this as a fundamental principle of "Civil Service R. form "-we are thrown back upon the law as it stands in the Consular Regulations and in the Revised Statutes of the United States Now, the stipulations in these documents are explicit enough for any one, and the freest translation of them would if acted up to, ensure the most in the world. HE widely-expressed regret at the discontinuance of Notes & Queries on China and Japan, has induced the publishers of this journal to issue a publication similar in object and style, but slightly modified in certain details.

THE CHINA BEVIEW, or Notes and Queries on the Far East, is issued at intervals of two months, each number containing about 60 octavo pages, occasionally illustrated with lithographs, photographs, woodcuts, &c., should the papers published demand, and the circulation justify, such

The subscription is fixed at $6.50 postage paid, per annum, payable by non-residents in Hongkong half-yearly in advance. The publication includes papers original and selected upon the Arts and Sciences. Ethnology, Folklore, Geography, History, Literature, Mythology, Manners and Cus-toms, Natural History, Religion, &c., &c., of China, Japan, Mongolia, Tibet, the Eastern Archipelego and the "Far East" generally. A more detailed list of subjects upon which contributions are especially invited is incorporated with each number. Original contributions in Chinese, Latin, French, German, Spanish, Italian or Portuguese, are admissible. Endeavours are made to present a resume in each number of the contents of the most recent works bearing on Chinese matters. Great is also paid to the Review

The great degree of attention that has been bestowed of late years mon the investigation of Chinese literature. antiquities, and social developments, to say nothing of linguistic studies, has led to the accumulation of important stores of information, rendering some such channel of publicity as is now provided extremely desirable : and contributions of much interest may fairly be looked for from the members of the foreign consular services, the Uhinese Customs' corps, and the missionary body, among whom a high degree of Chinese scholarship is now assiduously cultivated, and who are severally represented in the first number of the Review by papers highly Queen's Road. creditable to their respective authors. Bowra, is not only historically valuable, but is also distinguished by its literary grace. Beside notices of new books relating to China and the East, which will be a useful feature of the Review, if carried out with punctuality and detail, we are glad to notice that "Notes" and "Quaries" are destined to find a place in its pages also. It is to be hoped that this opening for contributions on Chinese subjects may evoke a similar degree of literary zeal to that which was displayed during the lifetime of its prede-cessor in the field, and that the China Review may receive the support necessary to insure its continuance. The publication is intend ed to appear every two months, and will orm a substantial octave magazine.

THE CHINESE MAIL

This paper is now issued every day. The subscription is fixed at Four Dollars per annum delivered in Hongkong, or Seven Dollars Hifty Cents including postage to Coast ports.

It is the first Chinese Newspaper over lanued under purely native direction. The amongst whom also are to be found the guarantors and securities necessary to place it on a business andlegal footing.

The projectors, basing their estimates upon the most reliable information from the various Ports in China and Japan,-in guaranteeing an ultimate circulation of between 3,000 and 4,000 copies. The advantages offered to advertiners are therefore unusually great, and the foreign community generally will find it to their interest to avail themselves of

The field open to a paper of this description—conducted by native efforts, but progressive and anti-obstructive in tonein almost limitless. It on the one hand commands Chinese belief and interest while on the other deserves every aid that can be given to it by foreigners. Like English journals it contains Editorialswith Local, Shipping, and Commercial News and Advertisements.
